Working in groups to pick a colleague's brain

Great LES projects with many small parts that can be expanded and adapted to fit class time and student needs.

The LES tables - all of them - were all amazing. Kelly Young's maple syrup project was inspiring! I found the Differentiation Activity challenging, but after I've had time to digest it, I am feeling that I learned a lot from it. Now, need time to put it into practice. Thank you.

Please have sound available for any presentation. 2. These days are quite useful and inspirational.

Love all the resources and sharing. Eager to try them with students. Thank you.

The LES sharing tables were great - good to be able to check out the multiple LES's.

We need more. Thank you.

The discussion on assessment was excellent. I think that more of this would be helpful.

I would be interested in comparing to ALDI

Everything was interesting. I really like hearing teacher's tricks! Thanks!

Sharing is the best!

Sharing the LES's is really helpful because it leads to other conversations.

Excellent participation by teachers who presented information of the Park Project and the use of newspapers.

I liked the park activity.

Very good all-around this year - well organized!

LES information useful for teachers.
