Dear Teachers,

- An arts gallery is being created on the LEARN website. It has a dual purpose. It will showcase students' work in the arts and will inspire other arts teachers by providing the learning and evaluation situation (LES) which inspired the work.
- It will also provide another venue available for appreciating works of art.

We welcome submissions to our arts gallery. We would like to feature all four arts as well as all levels of student work.

The LES should conform to copyright law

- the ideas included should be those of the creators
- if the LES was inspired by someone else's work, citation must be included
- no copyright images, text or video should be included

Each submission should include the LES as well as up to 6 samples of student work / creations. We welcome video, audio and image files. Please see the file, "specs" to see the file formats and sizes that will be accepted.

Please provide us with the following information. The teacher's name, school and contact information will go on the site but no student names will appear.

NB: A permission form needs to be signed by the teacher to feature the work on the LEARN website.

Name of Teacher
School
Board
Contact (email)
Contact (Telephone)
Title of Project
Abstract (around 100 words) describing the project
LES -include the file name here

Student Work

A permission slip needs to be signed by the student and parent for each student involved in the project.

Each student sample should include a title, the digital file and, if possible, an artist's statement (can be text or audio). This should describe the student's/ students' intention in creating the work

Title of the Work	Artifact file name – any image, video, audio files	File name of artist's statement

LEARN reserves the right not to publish any gallery page that doesn't meet the requirements.

The information and work (in digital format) can be submitted by mail to:
